Dear Zhongyi,

We are delighted to inform you that we are opening a new affiliated program regarding the continuing study of Biomedical Informatics. We are offering various leading-edge training courses for graduated students to take online. Furthermore, with Professor Julie Mehretu's joining, the new continuing learning program will cooperate with the University of Chicago Biological Science Division. This will be a very decent chance to dive deep into the medical AI application, medication image recognition, and clinical staging technology improvements. We will send you a separate list of courses, and we welcome you to join this program.

Kind regards,

Dean of Admission and Financial Aid
